God's Universal Laws

The Law of Obedience

There have been many names for this Law – The Law of Authority and Obedience and The Moral Law. In any case, this Law is defined as complying with a command or precept given by one in authority. It is not as a transitory or isolated act but rather as a virtue or principle of righteous conduct. It is then said to be the moral habit by which one carries out the order of his superior with the precise intent of fulfilling the request.²⁸ But when we look to the association of obedience and the Universal Laws the act of complying to a command or precept is much broader in its meaning. The meaning here is the obedience of not only one but the many. Nature is to be in balance 100% of the time. In nature, this balance is not only within those things we think of as trees, plants, etc. but it includes all physical life form. Therefore, to balance nature every physical life form must obey constantly the command or precept given to us by God. To not obey these commands is to not have nature in balance and as such out of total alignment spiritual with God. It is in this broader understanding that we must obey our Sources commands. In the study by Bob Proctor on the 11 forgotten Universal Laws he states that, “When we all submit to the rules, the entire system we are a part of works in an orderly and efficient manner. If one or more of us disobey the rules, it can all fall apart. Even business is founded on obedience.” Did you ever hear of the saying the chain is only as strong as its weakest link; or a team is only as strong as its weakest member?

Moving on in the Torah and biblical translation we are directed to the story of Noah and the Ark. We move through the story to the end of the flood when God made the Noahic Covenant with Noah. This covenant was the same as the Adamic Covenant in many respects but since God had destroyed the evil side of Adam's off springs, he took favor with Noah and used him to protect his creation of all living these of the earth that was created in the Beginning. In Genesis 9:1 we find that “God blessed Noah and his sons, and said unto them, “Be fruitful, and multiply and replenish the earth.” These are the same words given to Adam in the story of Adam and Eve. But here we have chosen to pick them up again for our next series of Laws because it was at this time, we know that whatever Noah and his sons were fruitful of - multiply children and beast unto themselves and replenishment of the earth - is really where creation begins again. Due to the flood that destroyed all the living things of the earth it was the act of Noah in obedience to God in gathering all of God's request and placing them in the Ark that we have what we have today. So, it is here we look at nature beginning. In order to replenish the earth and be fruitful God had to tell Noah what he had to gather and bring into the Ark as the supply of what it was that Noah was to replenish the earth with.

Humanity thinks of God's obedience as a pick and choose process. I can pick to obey things and then I can do what I want to do on others. This is not God's command and certainly not how God's Covenant with man is written. To obey God means that you must be aligned with God in all aspects of life. We must understand the Authority Structures of God to fully understand the condition by which our life must be for God's Authority to shield us and provide for us. It is a myth to think we can live with God and without at the same time. This is out of God's order. For those of us who choose to live this way we are not in accordance with God's perfect will, not protected within the terms and conditions of His Covenant with man and we will not be heard by God.
